This is who we are

20 years of Croatia Yachting's success

After twenty years of successful business, I look back with pride on the journey we have taken. I am aware that our success would not be possible without the dedication and expertise of our employees. They are the foundation of our company and prove every day that human capital is our greatest strength.

From the beginnings in 2004 to the present times, we have managed to build a recognizable brand based on tradition, quality and innovation. What sets us apart from our competitors is our constant investment in improving our business and adapting to market trends. Every yacht in our fleet, every charter base we acquire and every employee is part of the success story we are building together.

This year, we opened a new Croatia Yachting base in Sukošan, which represents a significant step in our development. In doing so, we are not only improving the service to our existing clients, but also creating the conditions for attracting new ones.

We are also proud of constant expansion of our business beyond the borders of Croatia. Our vision has always been international, and now it is becoming a reality through new projects in neighboring countries.

Our vision remains unchanged – to provide an unforgettable experience to every owner and every guest and to maintain a leading position in the sector.

I would like to thank all our employees and clients for their support over the past twenty years. Without them, our success would not have been possible.

Together we will continue to build the future of Croatia Yachting on the solid foundations we have laid over the past 20 years.

DOMAGOJ MILIŠIĆ, Managing director

UNIQA Everything you need for SAFE NAVIGATION

You know that feeling when you set your foot on a boat and start feeling happy butterflies in your stomach? Your vessel takes you into a reality in which only you and the sea exist. There is no world around you to bother you, only the wind that helps you set your course, the sky above you, and the sea below you. Freedom. A rest for your soul. Is there anything more beautiful than that?

No, there is not, while the sea is calm and you are on the mainland during a storm. For you to feel safe while your boat is moored in a port and while you are enjoying the delights of discovering hidden bays and the sunset, it is important to properly insure your vessel. Only thereafter will your navigation be carefree. You can insure your vessel with UNIQA osiguranje from a storm that can damage it and even sink it, as well as from maritime accidents, while you can also insure your boat equipment—the engine system and accessories, even your belongings on board. The best way to protect your vessel is by arranging all-risk insurance, which covers theft as well as the costs of retrieving and disposing of the wreckage. Because one must navigate, but safely!

OTP Leasing 19 Years of Smooth Sailing

OTP Leasing firmly holds the leading position in the industry, maintaining a strong reputation for over 19 years. In the nautical sector especially, OTPL is a strong competitor. With a widespread network of branches (9), OTPL ensures high service availability and customer care. OTPL continuously creates and adapts to market trends and customer needs. Additionally, it is important to note that OTPL attends and participates in major boat shows across Europe, such as the Cannes Yachting Festival, Boot Düsseldorf, Zagreb Boat Show, and Biograd Boat Show, as well as several international regattas like the Hanse Cup Adriatic. www.otpleasing.hr

Beaches to Visit on Your Croatia Sailing Holiday

With summer in full swing and holiday plans in motion, there is one dreamy destination travelers don't miss on their must-visit list. Thanks to a coastline decorated with islands and beaches that dazzle in the sweltering sun, Croatia is the summer hotspot.

Croatian beaches offer a variety of experiences, from popular destinations to hidden gems, ensuring unforgettable moments during your sailing in the Adriatic. Each of them has its own unique characteristics, whether it is natural beauty, accessibility or additional amenities, giving you a wide choice for the perfect holiday at sea.

Zlatni rat, Brač

Known as the 'Golden Horn', this beach is one of the most recognizable symbols of Croatian tourism. Its unique shape changes depending on the wind and sea currents. It is ideal for windsurfing and kiteboarding and is surrounded by pine forests that provide natural shade.

Dubovica, Hvar

Located on the southern coast of Hvar, it's no wonder why this Vogue-approved beach is on our list and so many others. The allure of this pebbled paradise is heightened by the Kasandrić family summer villa, dating back to the 19th century, and a traditional 'konoba' restaurant where you can delight in freshly caught fish and local wine while gazing into the turquoise abyss.

Zlatni rat, Brač

Kručica, Pelješac

This rare sandy beach is only accessible by boat or on foot. It offers peace and quiet away from the crowds.

Nugal, Makarska Riviera

Located at the foot of the 400-metre-high cliffs of Biokovo, Nugal is known for its isolation and crystal-clear sea. Access is only possible by boat or a 30-minute descent down a steep path, which limits crowds during the season.

Stiniva, Vis

Europe's best beach in 2016 is also a bucket-list destination for anyone on a sailing holiday in Croatia. Located on the southern part of Vis Island, Stiniva beach sits in a bay of the same name, though hardly visible thanks to its tall rocky surroundings, which also provide natural shade for beachgoers. Because it isn't the most accessible beach to reach, Stiniva has managed to preserve its natural beauty – but it is only gaining popularity with each passing summer.

Smokvica, Kornati

Part of the protected Kornati National Park, Smokvica is a remote and uninhabited island known for its dramatic steep cliffs, crystal-clear sea, and untouched natural beauty. It is only accessible by sailing or speedboat, making it a truly exclusive destination for passionate sailors and adventurous explorers.

Saplunara, Mljet

Named after the Latin word for 'sand', Saplunara cove is a hidden gem of Mljet island, located on its south-eastern coast. Because the cove itself measures around 1 kilometre, Saplunara is split into two beaches – big and little Saplunara. Ringed by an Aleppo pine forest, fine white sand covers this isolated cove, and the natural world thrives. Legend has it that Odysseus found sanctuary here, too!

Jarek Budny

From yacht charter to life in Croatia

What began as a simple tourist visit to Croatia evolved into a life-changing journey, where a memorable sailing experience led to a deep connection with the country and the creation of a successful business.

Jarek Budny, an international businessman who has traveled almost the entire world, discovered his love for Croatia by chance in 2004. What began as a typical tourist trip transformed into a life adventure filled with natural beauty, warm people, excellent food, and business opportunities. The turning point in Budny's life came in 2014 when he visited the boat show in Düsseldorf. At the Croatia Yachting stand, he decided to charter a sailing yacht, not realizing that this experience would completely change his life. Impressed by the service of Croatia Yachting team and charter experience, Budny soon made a decision that would forever tie him to Croatia - purchasing his own Hanse 455 sailing boat through Croatia Yachting.

Thanks to the excellent experience with Croatia Yachting and their owner Domagoj Milišić, Budny spent more and more time in Croatia. His love for the country grew over the years, eventually resulting in the purchase of a house in Opatija and obtaining permanent residency. Today, 10 years after buying his first boat, Budny spends most of his time with his family in Croatia, enjoying everything the country has to offer. As he says, he enjoys the most delicious olive oil every day! Budny's story is not just about love for Croatia, but also about the positive economic and social impact. Recognizing the potential, he decided to establish Salty Life d.o.o, a Croatian company providing management and technical services to international customers. Using his extensive experience and international network, he brings high-tech jobs to Croatia, thus significantly contributing to the local economy. His initial investment in a boat turned into much more - a lifestyle, a passion, and a business opportunity. He emphasizes that his story illustrates how tourism, especially nautical tourism, can be a powerful driver for attracting investments and new permanent residents, significantly contributing to Croatia's economic development. From a simple boat charter to buying real estate and successfully establishing a thriving international company, his inspiring journey demonstrates the transformative power of a positive tourist experience in Croatia.

A Renaissance masterpiece

Sometimes overlooked as a holiday destination in favour of the more famous resorts and islands further along the coast, the North Dalmatian region has much to offer to its visitors. The area contains the beautiful coastal towns of Zadar, Šibenik and Primošten as well as numerous islands and three national parks.

The city of Zadar is unique for its thousand-year-old urban existence which makes it one of the oldest cities in Croatia. This is a city filled with cultural and historical heritage that can be seen just by walking through the city. Zadar is not too crowded, it's not overrun with tourists and its two unique attractions – the sound-and-light spectacle of the Sea Organ and the Sun Salutation – need to be seen and heard to be believed.

Šibenik is located in a deep inlet where the river Krka flows into the Adriatic Sea. Its port is very well protected from all winds and is ideal as a starting point of your cruise. Numerous churches, monasteries, palaces and four fortresses 'frame' the city, and also testify to the perseverance, renunciation and faith of generations of people of Šibenik.

Primošten is located on a peninsula that was an island once and is one of the most attractive destinations on the Adriatic coast with a typical look of an old fishing town.

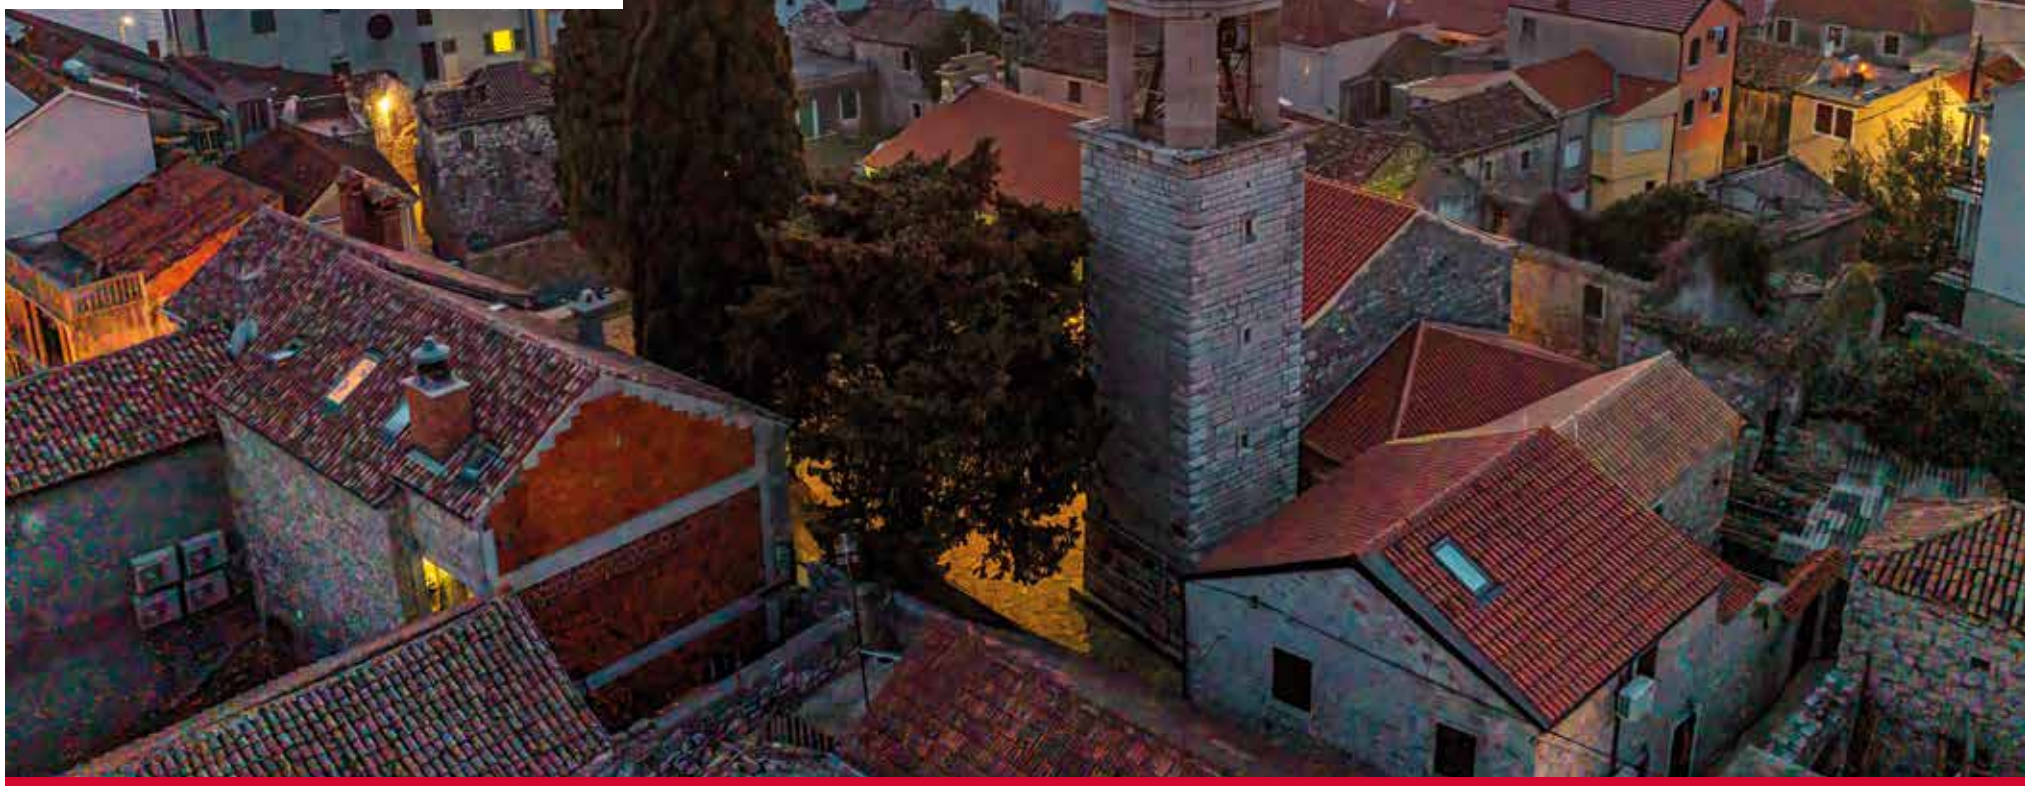

Sukošan welcomes our new charter base

Sukošan is a charming coastal town with around 3,000 inhabitants, located just 10 km from Zadar and 8 km from Zadar Airport. First mentioned in written records in 1289, Sukošān is home to Croatia's largest marina, D-Marin Dalmacija, which offers top-tier nautical infrastructure and 1,036 berths. Despite its size, the town boasts a rich cultural heritage, including four historic churches and Palac, a summer residence of the Zadar archbishops dating back to the 15th century. During the summer, Sukošān comes alive with various exhibitions, concerts, and theater performances.

A must-see is the Gornja Vrata square, a favorite gathering spot for both visitors and friendly locals. The town is known for its fresh, locally sourced ingredients, offering a mix of traditional Dalmatian flavors and modern culinary twists. Dalmatian tavern Griblja is a restaurant that blends modern Dalmatian cuisine with fresh, seasonal ingredients. South Dalmatia

Natural beauty

South Dalmatia is Croatia's most important holiday-making destination with the city of Dubrovnik as its capital. Dubrovnik is known worldwide as a true pearl of the Mediterranean, but one must not forget the picturesque towns, replete with history and exquisite natural beauty, which surround the city on both sides and greatly add to its appeal. Remains of fortifications which testify to a long history of repulsed invasions can be found throughout the area. The most known islands of this area are Korčula, Lastovo and Mljet, very popular for sailing.

With its sublime location, overlooking the blue waters of the Adriatic, Dubrovnik is one of the world's most magnificent walled cities. It's a UNESCO world heritage site and Croatia's most known destination. Don't miss visiting Dubrovnik city walls and the main street Stradun. If you want to enjoy the breathtaking view of the town, take Dubrovnik cable car to the hill Srđ. The town of Korčula, known as the birthplace of the adventurer and traveller Marco Polo, is sprung up on a small peninsula overlooking the Pelješac channel. The wealth of its stonemasonry and architecture has been winning visitors over for centuries. The island of Mljet hides under its wing the very first national park of the Adriatic. A heaven for sailors and a common target for pirates, Mljet island is today an essential destination, recommended by numerous global magazines and guides. Many agree Mljet is precisely the place where the mythical Ulysses lived for seven years entranced by the nymph Calypso.

Sailing through the Kornati feels like navigating a dream, where untouched nature, rich history, and maritime tradition come together in perfect harmony.

Kornati National Park

A sailing paradise in the heart of the Adriatic

Good tips

Don't forget to buy your ticket to the Kornati National Park online before you arrive

Anchoring is only allowed in marked places. Use mooring buoys wherever possible

Žut

The Kornati Islands are not just a destination, but a life experience that will inspire and enrich you. Whether you are looking for peace and quiet, adventures at sea or gastronomic delights, this archipelago has it all. Imagine an archipelago of 140 islands, islets and rocks that spread like pearls on the blue canvas of the Adriatic Sea. Welcome to the Kornati National Park, a true paradise for sailing and nautical enthusiasts! This unique combination of natural beauty, rich history and sea adventures makes the Kornati Islands the pinnacle of a Mediterranean dream. The Kornati labyrinth of rocky shores and untouched nature offers the perfect blend of adventure, culinary delights and a deep connection with nature. For sailors, the Kornati Islands are not just a destination – they are an experience that redefines the concept of freedom.

Breathtaking nature

The Kornati archipelago, called the 'crown of creation' by George Bernard Shaw, fascinates with its nakedness. The barren rocky slopes, built of limestone, create a contrast to the transparent sea, the blue of which can be seen even from space. Cliffs up to 80 meters high, such as those on Klobučar Island, protrude above the seabed that reaches depths of 100 meters. This geological dramaturgy is the result of millennia of erosion and tectonic shifts, creating a 'lunar landscape' that intrigues artists and scientists.

Marine Phenomenon

With an impressive 2,700 hours of sunshine a year, the Kornati offer ideal sailing conditions from May to October. Whether you are an experienced sailor or a beginner, you will enjoy the perfect combination of favorable winds and sheltered bays here. And how could you not enjoy it when it comes to a destination with crystal clear waters that provide exceptional visibility, creating perfect conditions for diving and observing marine life. And this is where true magic begins. Because, namely, the Kornati are home to 850 animal species, including 61 species of coral and 185 species of fish.

- The surroundings of the island of Purar reveal the wrecks of Venetian galleys and German warships from World War II.
- For snorkeling, the Lojena Bay on Levrnak offers the archipelago's only sandy beach, where Periskas have embedded themselves in the sand.

From sea to table

Restaurants like Konoba Opat or Robinson in Vrulja lead the way in local tradition in gastronomic art. Lamb roasted under a peka (iron bell) is prepared for 6 hours with olive wood from the island of Žut, while squid is stuffed with olives from nearby groves. You can also enjoy various versions of brudet on the Kornati Islands.

View from the top

The climb to Metlina (237 m), the highest peak of the Kornati Islands, takes 40 minutes along steep paths surrounded by the ruins of Illyrian castles. The lookout reveals the geometry of the dry stone walls – 330 km of stone borders that the Kurnatari (the name for the local population) built over the centuries.

Unmissable events

The first Sunday in July brings together hundreds of sailboats in Tarac Bay for the feast of Our Lady of Tarac. A sailor's procession, accompanied by a gusla, follows the relic of St. Nicholas through the canals – a fusion of faith and maritime tradition that UNESCO has declared an intangible cultural heritage.

Recipe

Lobster in dalmatian buzara

Ingredients

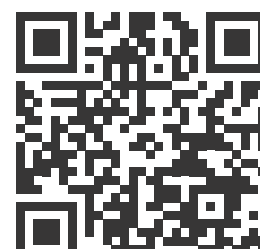

Fresh lobster 1500 g (2 pieces, cut in half lengthwise)
Red onion 150 g (chopped)
Garlic 50 g (peeled, tightly pressed)
White wine 200 ml
Olive oil 50 ml
Parsley 50 g (finely chopped before the end of cooking)
Homemade salad 200 ml
Fish soup 300 ml
Spaghetti 250 g (cook separately in boiling salted water)
Raisins 50 g
Prosecco 100 ml

Preparation

Begin by sautéing red onion and garlic in medium-heated olive oil until they turn golden. Once they're nicely browned, pour in some white wine and let it simmer gently. Add your homemade salsa and bring the mixture to a boil. Next, add the lobster, which should be cut in half, and cook over low heat until the lobster meat is just medium-cooked. Season the dish with salt and pepper, then add the cooked spaghetti, allowing it to cook for a few more minutes to ensure the pasta absorbs the flavours of the sauce. Just before finishing, pour in Dalmatian Prošek and let the dish boil over high heat for up to two minutes.

To finish, drizzle with olive oil, sprinkle with freshly chopped parsley, and serve. It's recommended not to stir the dish with a food processor but to shake it by hand frequently to keep the lobsters intact.

Martinis Marchi team wishes you Bon appetit!

Surrounded by the beautiful Adriatic Sea near Kornati National park, Fešta is situated among ancient olive trees that belong to its owners, Mudronja family. "Fešta is not only a restaurant, Fešta is everything but only a restaurant." says Mr Krešimir Mudronja, Executive manager of the restaurant. Fešta is a life story of his family whose three generations worked (and are still working) endlessly hard to come where they are now, to create something so special like Fešta. Authentic taste of Dalmatia's flavors Rooted in Mediterranean tradition, Dalmatian cuisine showcases the richness of local ingredients and time-honored techniques. Each dish carries a story of heritage, with recipes passed down for centuries, preserving the authentic flavors of the region.

Dalmatian cuisine, based on Mediterranean traditions, combines the simplicity of ingredients with cultural roots, and flavours are shaped through unique preparation techniques and the use of indigenous ingredients. Recipes have been passed down from generation to generation for centuries, and each delicacy is a story in itself. Their names are often difficult to pronounce but easy to eat. Enjoy your meal!

Brački vitalac

A protected speciality of the island of Brač, it is prepared from lamb or goat offal. This meat speciality originates from shepherding traditions where nothing was wasted, and every part of the animal was used. Today, it is prepared in villages such as Murvica and Nerežišća, and the Vitalac Festival is held every July in Postira.

Hrapačuša

Hrapačuša is a traditional cake from the island of Brač that has become a protected intangible cultural asset of the Republic of Croatia. It originates from the town of Dol on Brač and is named after the rough Dol stone that it resembles in appearance. Although it consists of basic ingredients such as flour, eggs, almonds, walnuts and 'prošek' (a traditional alcoholic drink made from wine), its taste is very impressive.

Skradinski rižot

If you are wondering what the slowest food in Croatia is, the answer is Skradinski risotto, which takes 13 hours to prepare. It is based on veal belly that is cooked for 8 hours with red onion, after which rice is added. The key technique is continuously stirring it with a wooden spoon (paddle) to prevent the starch from settling.

Soparnik

Soparnik, protected as an intangible cultural heritage by UNESCO, consists of two thin layers of dough with a filling of Swiss chard, parsley and garlic. It is traditionally baked in a stone oven where the temperature of 300°C achieves the perfect balance between crispy dough and juicy filling.

Brujet

This dish of many names (brujet, brudet, or brodet) is one Dalmatian classic you'll likely enjoy on an island, at a family-run 'konoba', from a pot as big as the wooden table it sits atop. A traditional stew that uses three types of the freshest fish you catch that day is given life thanks to olive oil, garlic, and onions, with tomatoes and white wine as an acidic flavour enhancer to complete this seafood delicacy. Brujet is usually served over a bed of polenta, which soaks the stew into each granule, allowing for an aromatic edible experience you'll be hard-pressed to find on any other sailing holiday.

Viška pogača

A savory cake with anchovies and capers, it is a descendant of the Roman 'panis nauticus'. In the village of Komiža on island Vis, the dough is still kneaded and baked in stone ovens from the 13th century.

Rožata

Tasty cream made of eggs, milk and caramel is created through the phenomenon of 'shock cooling'. After baking at 180°C, it is immediately placed in the refrigerator at -4°C, which ensures a soft, creamy interior and intensifies the flavours.

A Guide to the wine pearls of the Mediterranean

Did you know that Croatia has more than 130 indigenous grape varieties? An astounding fact that many travellers don't know. And the best part? As you sail the coast of Croatia, you can see the patchwork of vineyards on the islands, and visit many unique wineries along the way.

Every bottle of island wine you open is a dialogue between the past and the future, and wine tastings are a spectacle for all senses. Indulge in the chronicle of the Mediterranean spirit – from the volcanic terroirs of Vis to the solar vineyards of Šolta – written in every drop of wine. The Croatian islands, dotted with vineyards that slide down sun-drenched slopes, represent a rich history of Mediterranean viticulture. From indigenous varieties preserved for centuries to innovative enological approaches, these Croatian islands wineries offer a journey through flavours that are 'created' by stone, sea and the passion of local winemakers. This guide reveals the most famous wine destinations in the Adriatic, where every glass of wine turns into a story about the identity of the island.

HVAR

Tomić Winery

In the heart of the Hvar vineyards, Tomić Winery combines Greek vinification methods with the most modern technologies. Andro Tomić, the first Hvar native to earn a Bordeaux degree in oenology, has revitalized forgotten varieties like Bogdanuša and Prča. His Pošip Grand Selection, aged for 18 months in French oak barrels, has achieved iconic status, with a mineral note that reflects the limestone soil of Jelsa. In a cellar modelled after Diocletian's Palace, tastings are accompanied by hologram displays of the maturation process.

Zlatan Otok

On the southern slopes of Hvar, where vineyards slope down to the blue, Zlatan Plenković creates a Plavac Mali with 16% alcohol that retains its elegance thanks to night harvesting. Their 'Crna perla', a cuvée made from grapes from over 100-year-old vines, is fermented in amphorae buried in the seabed, absorbing the rhythm of the tides.

KORČULA

Black Island Winery

In a revitalized tobacco factory in Smokvica, young oenologists use high-frequency sonication to extract aromas. Their Pošip 'Pearl of Sand', obtained by cryogenically grinding grapes at -196°C, has achieved cult status among sommeliers. During 'night tastings', visitors explore the aromas with the help of night glasses.

Zure

The Batistić-Zure winery has nurtured, valued and produced the indigenous Grk grape variety from the sandy soils of Lumbarda for over 600 years, and today, their modern vineyard has approximately 33,000 vines. The winery, in addition to the Grk 'Bartul' and Sur Lie, produces wines from Pošip, Plavac Mali, and 'Rebellion' (a blend of five red varieties – Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Syrah, Plavac Mali, and Alicante Bouschet).

BRAČ

Stina Winery

On the Bol waterfront, a winery housed in a former quarry commune has transformed Brač's geological diversity into a wine palette. Their Plavac mali 'Majstor' is made from grapes from three different micro-locations: volcanic soil in Bol, chalky soil in Škrip, and shale in Sutivan. The tasting set includes rock samples for a tactile connection to the terroir.

Senjković Wines

If you moor in Milna, Sutivan or Supetar, it is only a 15 – 20 min taxi drive to Senjković Winery. The Winery is run with a passion for wine and gastronomy and the guests are delighted with culinary delicacy matched to the wines. Set in a darling stone house and courtyard, this is a unique and intimate experience that lovers of food, wine, and tradition won't want to miss.

VIS

Lipanović Winery

In tunnels built for the needs of the former Yugoslav Navy, the wines maintain a constant temperature of 13°C. Their Vugava 'Atlantida' ages 30 meters deep in special hydrothermal chambers, absorbing underwater vibrations. Tastings are accompanied by holographic projections of the island's history.

Senjanović Wines

On fields covered in volcanic ash, this winery uses geothermal energy to heat its cellars. Their Plavac mali 'Eruption' has a unique mineral structure, with notes that vary depending on the activity of the underwater volcanoes near Komiža.

PELJEŠAC

Grgić Winery

Grgić is a name synonymous with wine-making. Mike Grgich is the legendary Napa Valley winemaker behind the 1973 Chateau Montelena Chardonnay; this is the wine which bested several white Burgundy wines in a blind tasting – which was later dubbed 'The Judgement of Paris'. In 1996, Mike moved back to Croatia and established Grgić wines and together with his daughter and nephew, started producing fine wines from Dalmatian grapes. Grgić Pošip (white) and Grgić Plavac Mali (red) are known worldwide and feature on the wine lists of many prestigious restaurants.

Korta Katarina

Villa Korta Katarina and Winery is unlike any other property in Croatia. Korta Katarina Villas are a member of the prestigious Relais & Châteaux, so the property, service, and attention to detail are unparalleled. If you love fine wine, gourmet cuisine, spectacular scenery, luxury, and service, this winery is for you. Try award-winning Pošip, Plavac Mali and Rosé.

Unforgettable Family Sailing Adventures in Croatia

Croatia offers the perfect blend of adventure, relaxation, and rich cultural heritage, making it an ideal sailing destination for families. Here's why.

FAMILY SAILING CROATIA Unforgettable Adventures for the Whole Family

SAFE AND CALM WATERS: The Adriatic Sea is known for its gentle waves and mild winds, providing a secure environment for families, especially those new to sailing. The predictable weather patterns and well-charted sailing routes ensure a stress-free experience for both novice and experienced sailors. Additionally, the shallow coastal areas make it easier to anchor and explore without worry.

SHORT SAILING DISTANCES: With over 1,200 islands, Croatia allows for short sailing legs between destinations, reducing travel time and ensuring comfort. This means less time on the water and more time enjoying destinations. Families can easily plan day trips without feeling rushed, making the journey enjoyable for children.

FAMILY-FRIENDLY AMENITIES: Numerous marinas offer playgrounds, beaches, and kid-friendly restaurants. Facilities such as showers, laundry services, and well-stocked supermarkets cater to families, ensuring convenience. Some marinas even provide childcare services and organized family-friendly activities.

EXCITING ACTIVITIES: Whether it's snorkeling in crystal-clear waters or kayaking around islands, Croatia provides plenty of fun activities to keep the entire family entertained. Adventure-seekers can also try windsurfing, paddleboarding, and fishing, ensuring there's something for everyone.

RICH CULTURAL AND NATURAL HERITAGE: From exploring UNESCO heritage sites to enjoying nature parks, Croatia offers diverse experiences suitable for all ages. The combination of historical sites, picturesque villages, and lush greenery ensures an enriching experience for children and adults alike.

SAILING WITH KIDS Tips for a Smooth Adventure

CHOOSING THE RIGHT BOAT: Selecting the appropriate boat is critical for a successful family sailing adventure. Choosing a roomy and sturdy boat, such as a catamaran, gives wider decks and increased stability, decreasing seasickness and providing comfort. Boats with safety nets, sheltered spaces, and child-friendly features such as simple boarding and plenty of storage for toys and necessities make the ride safer and more entertaining. Additionally, onboard entertainment systems help keep children entertained throughout extended sailing trips.

PACKING ESSENTIALS: Packing the appropriate basics will significantly improve your trip's comfort and success. Sun protection items including hats, sunscreen, and rash guards are vital. Motion sickness treatments, beloved toys, novels, travel games, and preloaded digital gadgets can all help keep children engaged. Adequate snacks, fluids, and a basic first-aid kit designed for children should always be available.

CREATING A FAMILY-FRIENDLY ITINERARY: Planning a family-friendly route necessitates short sailing legs with frequent stops. Stops at beaches, islands, and natural reserves ensure that children have plenty of playing and variety. Choosing sites with shallow waters for safe swimming and mixing cultural excursions with pleasant beach stops results in a well-rounded journey.

SAILING WITH PETS The Dos and Don'ts On Board

PRE-TRIP PREPARATIONS: Preparing for sailing with pets begins with a veterinary health check and getting the necessary papers. Packing things like pet-friendly life jackets, food, and comfort items will help pets adjust to life on board. Introducing your pet to the boat before departure might reduce anxiety and help them feel at peace. To guarantee a seamless visit, conduct research on pet-friendly marinas and attractions.

ONBOARD SAFETY TIPS: The safety of pets on board is a top priority. It is critical to designate a specific rest area, provide access to shade and refreshment, and use non-slip mats for easy moving. To keep the boat clean and stress-free, construct a designated bathroom area.

KEEPING PETS HAPPY AND ENGAGED: Keeping pets happy and involved entails organizing short shore trips for exercise, locating pet-friendly beaches and parks, and packing their favorite toys and goodies. Including interactive games can help keep pets entertained and engaged throughout the journey.

5 simple steps for clean and beautiful Adriatic

BE CONSCIOUS OF YOUR WATER AND ENERGY USAGE

This is something you should pay attention anyway since on the boat water and energy are in limited supply. So, make sure you switch off lights and air-conditioning in cabins when you don't need them and on the yacht, when you're leaving it. Use marina facilities for dishwashing, showering etc.

SAY NO TO PLASTICS!

Use a refillable water bottle, so you don't have to make plastic waste. Also, carry a reusable bag with you, and of course – even when offered, don't use the straw. These small changes can make a lot of impact on reducing the litter!

KEEP IN MIND TO SEPARATE THE WASTE AND RECYCLE!

Separate the degradable waste from plastics! In the marina there are always designated containers for recycling, so put them to good use!

YOU HAVE CHARTERED A SAILING BOAT – USE THE SAILS!

This goes without mention on a sailing boat, but here it is anyway. Feel the power of the wind captured in the sails, and make your vacation truly the experience for the lifetime! Oh, and reduce the usage of the fossil fuels in the process.

MIND THE BLACK WATERS!

Make sure you always use the black water tank when in bays, coves and marinas. Empty the tank in the designated marina facilities, when available, or in the open seas.

A quick guide to Croatian winds

No matter the season or time of year, while sailing in Croatia, it's inevitable that you'll be greeted by at least one of many Adriatic winds, all of which are defined by distinct characteristics that make them memorable and one-of-a-kind to the Croatian coast. Some are more infamous than others when sailing, as their heavy blows can ultimately halt your plans to your next destination, while others are praised for clearing your mind and the mess that can muddle it. You never really know which wind you'll meet when sailing in Croatia, but we can bet that the northerly bura, southerly jugo, transitional tramontana, and friendly maestral may make an appearance. While mostly harmless, Adriatic winds are the breeze by which your sailing trip is guided, and it's wise to get to know the four most famous before embarking on your next adventure at sea. Impress your skipper or friends with this breezy guide to winds in Croatia.

BURA

While it makes way for cloudless skies and open minds, this northeasterly wind is unpredictable, rapid, and not for the inexperienced sailor. Usually lasting only 3 days, you'll notice a change in your mood once it passes!

JUGO

Unlike bura, the southerly jugo is the 'moody' wind, usually accompanied by storm clouds, rain, and many irritable and lethargic locals. Sailors, however, use it to achieve high speeds!

TRAMONTANA

Bura's much friendlier sister is the transitional tramontana, a northerly wind that arrives to let us know that brother bura is on his way. Sailors use it to reach speeds up to 25 knots.

MAESTRAL

A wind that dances between the sun and the sea, maestral is most common in July and August, with steady blows known to help break the summer heat. Maestral promises smooth sailing.

Reasons why you should hire a skipper

Is there a greater pleasure than having your morning coffee on the deck of a boat, completely carefree, and then jumping into the sea after coffee? And in the evening, enjoying peace with a glass of wine. Without the noise and crowds typical of many tourist destinations you can enjoy silence, and unforgettable sunsets. If you don't have enough nautical experience or simply want to be worry-free, definitely hire a skipper who will make your sailing experience easier. Below, read the reasons why renting a boat with a skipper is the best decision.

A skipper ensures that your trip runs smoothly; how to handle the challenges of the sea—whether it's navigating through strong winds like the jugo or bura, predicting storms, or managing unexpected situations.

Stress-free vacation without planning

Spending a day sailing on crystal-clear waters will undoubtedly inspire you, and a boat vacation is the perfect way to relieve stress and reconnect with nature. Moreover, there's no need for planning – you decide where and when to sail at any moment and you can choose a new destination every day.

Skipper knows the sea

If don't have a valid license for sailing, if you lack nautical experience, if you're not entirely confident in your sailing skills or simply want to relax and enjoy your journey, you can rely on a professional and enjoy a carefree vacation.

Calmness and confidence

A skipper possesses a broad set of skills and qualities that ensure safe, efficient, and responsible navigation. They know exactly when to seek shelter in a port and how to anticipate approaching storms. Onboard, the skipper is the leader, and the crew must follow their guidance. Their calmness and confidence play a crucial role in solving any challenges that may arise.

Make sure you experience it – coffee on a boat, a swim in the sea, and a sunset, all while an expert skipper takes care of everything!
